January 3, 2011

Our Christmastime entertainment included Doris Oliver's brother Jim, serenading us with his guitar, some of the piano students of Connie Grube, both beginners and more skilled, and the early elementary students, or should I say the reindeer from Cordell Schools, some of which lined up for the photo above on the right. All were very enjoyable and make us wish the Christmas season wasn't over.

POLAR BOWLING

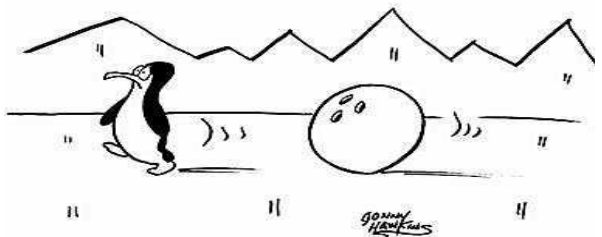

by Kenn Nesbitt

It used to be that polar bears went bowling, just for grins, with snowballs for their bowling balls and penguins as the pins.

*The bears would have a blast with all the snowballs that they threw.
The penguins weren't as happy;
that's the only time they flew.*

*So penguins all moved south and now they're at the other pole.
Well, wouldn't you move far away
if bears used you to bowl?*

"Writing hymns is harder than I thought!
I can't think of anything that rhymes with 'Hallelujah' except 'glad I knew ya'
and 'we'll tattoo ya!'"

This Week's Activities

Southern Masked Weaver This photographer had a priceless opportunity to watch these amazing builders constructing their homes from the very beginning till the end, from the first framework made of a few grass leaves till the very last stalk had been implemented and all the salient parts smoothed to satisfy the female. (See the thin blade of grass in her beak?)

Verse of the Week

It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because His compassions fail not. They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

Lamentations 3:22-23
