

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

By Bonnie Kliewer

Our Christmas activities are continuing as we move through the month of December. This week was started off cheerfully with the Cordell High School Band stopping by first thing Monday morning. They blessed us with several Christmas carols, doing a great job for a cold winter morning! We really appreciated hearing the live music in our lobby, and we're looking forward to other groups scheduled to bring us more singing, piano numbers and holiday fun.

The Resident's Christmas Party is coming up this Friday evening at 6:00. Everyone's ready for the visitors, treats, and hearing Santa's Ho-Ho-Ho when he comes to help pass out everyone's presents! Santa will be making another visit to the CCH family this week when he and Mrs. Claus come by a couple of days before the party to visit, take pictures and find out what's on everyone's Christmas list!

The Bingo games last week were lively with a total of 7 folks getting blackouts during the three day's games, including Jesse Locke, Norma Moler, Judith Winn, Grace Brite, Bernice Reeves, Junior Murphy and Annette Westreicher, who had 2! Judith Winn was the biggest daily winner, having 7 bingo's in one day.

Also this week we will have our December Birthdays Party in the main lobby with all the usual birthday party fun! Residents who will be celebrated at this party are Mary Ankney, Margaret Frank, Juanita Hoefar, Emma Johnson, Donna Klinger, Don Sloan, Olen Snider, Martha Hill and Florence Smith, along with several employees as guests of honor as well.

As we enjoy all the blessings brought to us from many, many sources, may you each have a week of Christmas blessings, the kind that only the King of kings can bring.
