

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

by Bonnie Kliewer

As we close out the year 2009, we look back at all the great moments that made up this year. We appreciate our loyal supporters, friends, visitors, volunteers and family members who help us make the Cordell Christian Home the great place that it is and thank you all with our whole hearts. You make it easier to maintain the excellent reputation that we have because you lend a hand and offer your support.

This past week has included many Christmas activities. From watching old Christmas movies and guessing and learning Christmas trivia to watching the snow blow and enjoying the visitors that made it through, it has been a Christmas season to remember.

On Thursday, one of our regular Bingo days, it was Christmas Eve and the weather would not allow our volunteers to make it in. We were able to get by though, with several residents pitching in and helping other residents. Don't tell the volunteers, but we still managed to have a good time, win lots of bingos and some special Christmas Eve prizes!

This week we will toast the New Year, make some resolutions, guess how long we might be able to keep them, and get used to saying twenty-ten.

We wish all of you the best year ever and pray for God's blessings to each one. Come on over and sit a spell sometime, you know we love visitors, and as always, the coffee's always on!
