

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

Our Activities calendar seems to be getting fuller lately, but if there are groups out there who would like to come sing for us, or most any other type of entertainment, we would be happy to fit you in and would welcome your visit.

This past week brought cupcake decorating with a fishing theme, and on Thursday we'll be decorating cookies for one of the holidays we're celebrating this week. Look out Food Network, here we come!

Margie's group spent the afternoon Friday remembering old-time remedies they used growing up, including frying earthworms to get their oil for use on wounds! Oh my.

Saturday morning brought "Name That Tune", with older country music recordings, which some of the residents could identify with great accuracy by both title and artist.

There were 22 folks playing Bingo last week. The race for the most Bingos was a close one with Judith Winn beating out Nannie Hines by just one. They each had a extra good week, several other players each had big enough 'Bingo' totals to win in a normal week! Blackouts were more plentiful too; eight different people got to pick prizes at least once throughout the week.

Happy Father's Day to all you Dad's out there. Whether in person or in memory you hold a special place in our hearts. This week we'll be looking forward to celebrating fathers on Sunday, the 20th. Several of our men residents will be going out for a bus ride & local tour on Thursday, which should be an enjoyable outing.

In between all our scheduled activities there will be dominoes and Skip Bo and the like going on, so come on by for a challenge or just a chat. See you soon.
