

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

The warm, sunny days have brought daily gatherings outside to enjoy visiting either under the sun or in the shade. At least until the rising thermometer sends us all hunting for air conditioning.

Margie's Friday afternoon Reminiscing, Storytelling & Fun Times group had a good time reading LeRoy Jones' article in last week's Beacon, then sharing about snake encounters they've had and memories of hitching up the horses to harvest wheat in their early years.

In Bingo play last week, Jessie Locke was the champ in number of Bingos, but Judith Winn and Jr. Murphy had a Blackout every day, and each day had one more added to the list by Betty Arter, Florence Smith or Norma Stewart. Twenty Bingo-ers total took part through the week.

The June Resident Council Meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon this week and on Thursday we'll be creating yummy treats again when we decorate cupcakes.

W.T. Bryan will be starting a Bible Study once again, but the time has changed to Wednesday mornings at 11:00.

If you're looking for a cool place to take a break, CCH is always cool and we'd welcome your visit! See you soon.
