

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's Digest

Some of us have been enjoying sitting on the porch watching it rain, and there have been plenty of opportunities to do that lately. Sounds like clear skies for a while now though, so we can switch to enjoying sitting in the sunshine or feeling a nice breeze in the shade.

Last week we had a large group out for Thursday's Cooking Class, sharing advice, stories and opinions while Activities Aides Iris and Lola were fixing fried green tomatoes and zucchini for the sharing.

Then on Friday Margie's Chatter Crowd enjoyed visiting about their grandmother's kitchens. Memories of baking bread and other wonderful smells and tastes were among the favorite stories.

Saturday morning brought the challenge of Name That Tune, trying to recall the titles and singers of old country romance songs.

Of the 20 Bingo players, W.T. Bryan had the bragging rights to the most Bingos, with Nannie Hines coming up just two short of his total. Judith Winn managed to blackout once each day, Betty Arter, Norma Moler, Jr. Murphy and Florence Smith each got one as well during the week.

This week many are looking forward to the re-opening of the "Treasure Trove", formerly The Country Store, and a chance to purchase a wide variety of small personal and gift items with their Bingo winnings.

As always, you're welcome to come on by, "set a spell", share a glass of iced tea and a visit, outdoors or in. See you soon.
