

Cordell Christian Home's
Resident's
Digest

Greetings to all our faithful readers and friends! Up here at the north end of College Street we've been busy as usual with our customary activities.

The Friday afternoon 'talking topic' last week was all about the ways of the world. Most of the things that came up make everyone glad to be living in small-town America and not in the "big city".

Twenty-three residents joined in the Bingo fun last week. Quarters, nickels and other prizes were handed out generously as "Bingo" and "Blackout" rang out. Norma Moler took over the 'most bingo's' spot for the week. Blackout prize winners were Betty Arter, Noma Johnson, Margaret Frank, Jesse Locke and Judy Winn – three times!

This week some of our once-a-month meetings are taking place. The Resident Council's monthly meeting is an important time for anyone interested to take part by sharing their views and ideas.

All of the August Birthdays will be celebrated on Thursday with all the birthday trimmings and sweets.

Come on by sometime and enjoy the cooler weather with us. See you soon.
