

Cordell Christian Home's Resident's RDigest

Most everyone is happy to see the weather changing, but disappointed that we missed the rain even though a 100 % chance was predicted.

The weather was the topic of conversation for Friday's Gabbing Group with Margie. They talked about changes they've seen over the years and big weather events they remembered.

Bingo games were enjoyed by 25 residents last week. Bige (Jr.) Murphy took over the top spot in total Bingos this week, and also had a couple of blackouts along with Margaret Frank, Judy Winn, Betty Arter and Daisy Prickett.

Iris's crafters did more bead work, creating different items that will be used as prizes when all the Area Wide Bingo-ers will be here next month.

This week we're looking forward to having fun in Iris and Lola's cooking class on Thursday, and sharing the goodies when they're done.

You can check out our full Activities calendars anytime on our website: www.cordellchristianhome.org . The website is good for many other things too. There are lots of photos, the history of CCH, reading past Beacon articles and weekly journals, applications for admission or employment, sending emails to employees or residents and answers to most of your questions.

It's almost like a real visit to 1400 North College Street. But there's nothing quite like the real thing ~ come on by some time and check us out! See you soon.
