

Resident's RDigest IN HOME JOURNAL

A Great Month

We have one great month ahead of us at the Cordell Christian Home. We have loads of new activities to attend and holidays to celebrate! You won't want to miss any of it!

To start the month off right, we are going to have an extra day of Bingo! Today, October 5th, Faith Hospice will be coming to CCH at 3:00 to host a game! Faith Hospice is always full of surprises so be ready for a very exciting game!

This Friday, October 9th, will be a great day to make your voice heard. It is absentee ballot voting day. If you are registered to vote then you will be voting for District 55's Oklahoma State House Representative. The two candidates are Todd Russ (Republican) and Larry Peck (Democrat).

October 23rd is the day we've all be waiting for, it's Chili Cook-off Day! We know many people want to win this year's competition. So get your aprons on and start preparing your winning pots of chili!

If you are thirsting for some live entertainment, then come to the CCH lobby on the 28th. The Gossen Sister's will be here! Bring a friend, sit, and enjoy some wonderful music!

Finally, on the 30th, we get to enjoy some adorable entertainers in the making! School children will be coming to at 9:00 to shower us with their musical talents. This will also be the day when our CCH residents and staff get to show off their 2009 Halloween costumes!

We hope everyone gets to come to all of the activities and events this month. Don't forget about some of the other holidays of the month: Columbus Day on the 12th, Boss Day on the 16th, and Halloween on the 31st! It will be a month to remember and we hope to share it with all of our residents and staff.

The Tiger and The Zebra

The tiger phoned the zebra and invited him to dine.

He said "If you could join me that would simply be divine."

The zebra said "I thank you,
but respectfully decline.

I heard you ate the antelope;
he was a friend of mine."

On hearing this the tiger cried
"I must admit it's true!

I also ate the buffalo,
the llama and the gnu.

And yes I ate the warthog,
the gazelle and kangaroo,
but I could never eat a creature
beautiful as you.

"You see I have a secret
I'm embarrassed to confide:

I look on you with envy
and a modicum of pride.

Of all the creatures ever known,"
the tiger gently sighed,

"It seems we are the only two with such a stripy hide.

"Now seeing how we share this strong resemblance of the skin,

I only can conclude that we are just as close as kin.

This means you are my brother and, though fearsome I have been,

I could not eat my brother,
that would surely be a sin."

The zebra thought, and then replied
"I'm certain you are right.

The stripy coats we both possess are such a handsome sight!

My brother, will you let me reconsider if I might?

My calendar is empty so please let us dine tonight."

The tiger met the zebra in his brand-new fancy car
and drove him to a restaurant which wasn't very far.

And when they both were seated
at a table near the bar,
the zebra asked "What's on the grill?"

The tiger said "You are."

"But please, you cannot dine on me!"
the outraged zebra cried.

"To cook me up and eat me
is a thing I can't abide.

You asked me for your trust
and I unwarily complied.

You said you could not eat me
now you plan to have me fried?"

"And what about the envy and the modicum of pride?

And what of us as brothers
since we share a stripy hide?"

"I'm sorry," said the tiger
and he smiled as he replied,

"but I love the taste of zebra
so, in other words, I lied."

Love and Forgive

And He has given us this command: Whoever loves God must also love his brother.

1 John 4:21

To truly show the love of God to others, refuse to hate and allow yourself to love and forgive.

Others will be more willing to turn towards God if they see the happiness and kindness it brings to the world.
